Haphazard, occasional saving seldom accomplishes much. It's the steady, persistent, regular depositing of so many dollars a week, or month, or season, in the Union Bank of Canada, which makes one financially independent. The money accumulates all the more rapidly, too, because of the interest which is added every six months.

The World's Best Liniment. Needed In Every Family From Infancy To Old Age

If Your Home Is Without 'Nerviline' Read the Following Closely.

The high cost of living to-day demands economy on every side. Sickness is expensive. Far better to treat little ills before they grow serious. For this reason every home should have handy on the shelf a good remedy like Nerviline, which cures the minor ailments that occur in every family.

For example, when the boy comes in with wet feet and a light cough, Nerviline will cure him. If a cold has settled on his chest, rub on Nerviline and the cold will go.

If something has been eaten that causes cramps, nausea, or diarrhoea, just twenty drops of Nerviline—that's all and cure is effected.

As a liniment for outward application in case of Neuralgia, Lamé Back, Sciatica, Lumbago or Rheumatism, it's really hard to imagine how Nerviline relieves and how soon it cures.

Nerviline is nothing new. No, it's one of the oldest and best known remedies. Used in thousands of homes by the people of many nations, simply because it stops pain, cures sickness, and rids the family of ills before they become troublesome. Get the family size bottle, price 50c.; trial size 25c., at all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrhzone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

The professor was returning home one night from a scientific meeting, still pondering over the subject. He had reached his room in safety when he heard a noise which seemed to come from under the bed.

Is someone there? he asked.
No, professor, answered the intruder, who knew of the professor's peculiarities.
That's strange, I was positive someone was under my bed, commented the learned man.

IMPURE BLOOD IN THE SPRING

The Passing of Winter Leaves People Weak and Depressed.

As winter passes away it leaves many people feeling weak, depressed and easily tired. The body lacks that vital force and energy which pure blood alone can give.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an all-year-round blood builder and nerve tonic, but they are especially useful in the spring. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood. Returning strength commences with their use and the vigor and cheerfulness of good health quickly follows.

There is just one cure for lack of blood and that is more blood. Food is the material from which blood is made, but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills double the value of the food we eat. They give strength, tone up the stomach and weak digestion, clear the complexion of pimples, eruptions and boils, and drive out rheumatic poisons.

If you are pale and sallow, if you feel continually tired out, breathless after slight exertion, if you have headaches or backaches, if you are irritable and nervous, if your joints ache, if your appetite fails and food does not nourish nor sleep refresh you, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will make you well and strong. To build up the blood is the special purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and that is why they are the best spring medicine. If you feel the need of a tonic at this season give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and you will rejoice in new health, new strength and new energy. Do not let the trying weather of summer find you weak and ailing. Build yourself up now with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—the pills that strengthen.

Ask for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and do not be persuaded to take something else. If your dealer does not keep these Pills they will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Concrete is the cheapest building material

Canada Cement

WHETHER for a school, a mill-house, or a million bushel grain elevator, concrete is the most economical building material in use to-day.

Concrete never requires repairs, and the saving in repair-expense alone makes the greater economy of using concrete more apparent every day.

The cost of other building materials is constantly increasing.

The cost of concrete is being reduced.

which Canadian farmers use, with their own sand, stone and gravel to make concrete, is the only ingredient you have to buy.

We have, by reason of our large output and scientific methods, been able to bring the price of "Canada" Cement so low that it is within the reach of everyone.

An increase in demand results in a greater economy of production, and when conditions have warranted it, we have, from time to time, shared this saving with the consumer by reducing the price of Canada Cement. This demand will continue to increase—as fast as farmers learn of concrete's superiority over other materials.

When you buy cement, see that you get "Canada" Cement; by so doing you will assure the complete success of all your concrete work.

ROOM FOR EXPANSION

Home Industry Suffers to Extent of Over a Million Dollars a Day

That the Canadian manufacturer has still a long way to go before he will be in a position to secure the bulk of the trade of the home market against his aggressive American competitor is apparent from figures recently issued at Washington. The value of merchandise exported to Canada from the United States during the 244 days from January 1 to August 31, 1912, is practically $241,000,000, or, to be more exact, $243,731,771, or approximately $1,000,000 a day. In the corresponding eight months of 1909 the value of merchandise exported to Canada was $130,428,582, or an average of a half-million dollars a day, the total value of exports to Canada having thus doubled in the three years in question.

Comparing the exports in the fiscal year 1912 with those of 1909, bituminous coal shows a growth of over $10,000,000—from $15,836,019 in 1909 to $26,017,402 in 1912. Notable increases occurred in steel rails, which advanced from $745,835 to $2,369,894; structural iron and steel from $1,585,137 to $6,150,353; agricultural implements from $2,313,556 to $6,347,082, the chief growth under this head occurring in exports of plows, which increased from $792,839 in 1909 to $1,760,045 in 1912. Of automobiles the growth in exports to Canada has been especially marked, their value, including parts, in 1912, $9,953,347, against $1,687,438.

It is just a question whether a young country like Canada can become a highly developed nation if it allows an aggressive trade competitor like the United States to exploit its home market in lines which can advantageously be made in Canada. That policy is the right one which would cause this million dollars a day to be spent in Canada among Canadian workmen.

Will Again Visit West

The organization of the second "Made in Canada" train has been practically completed, in preparation for a tour of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in May and June. The experimental trip of 1912, when about one hundred places in the three provinces were visited, was endorsed by such an enormous attendance of interested citizens that it was an easy matter to decide that a second tour should be made this year, though principally over a different route that places not visited last year might be included in 1913. The space in the entire train has been taken up by exhibits which will have especial interest in the west, all demonstrating that the Canadian-made product is equal in value, quality and variety to anything that can be imported.

A new feature this year will be the Ontario Agricultural Department's display of apples and other fruit, besides dairy products. These will be taken from cold storage, invitingly arranged in a car for the inspection of exhibition visitors.

The tour will be organized on practically the same basis as that of 1912, and will cover 120 cities and towns in the west, occupying about 52 days. The train will leave Montreal on May 14th and after visiting half a dozen cities in Ontario, will exhibit in Winnipeg at May 21st, proceeding westward, and returning to Montreal about July 5th. The itinerary will embrace the principal points on the lines of the Canadian Pacific west of Winnipeg.

The train will be electric lighted throughout, and the cars will be arranged with aisles along the side, leaving the greatest possible width for the exhibit booths. Stops will vary from two hours to forty-eight hours each, depending on the size of the town or city visited.

One of the features of this year's trip will be a moving picture show. In addition to the lantern views, which were shown last year, there will be two or three moving picture films of Canadian scenes, which are found to prove of interest to those who visit the train. As last year, the picture will be given in the open or in some suitable hall at all evening stops, but in the day time it will be given in a special car which will be equipped for this purpose.

All the exhibits this year will be different from those in last year's train, and the comfort of the visiting public has been provided for by better entrance and exit facilities, more lighting and better display signs. As last year, most of the exhibitors will give away valuable souvenirs and samples.

Don't be surprised if you have an attack of rheumatism this spring. Just rub the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Liniment and it will soon disappear. Sold by all dealers.

Volunteer Firemen

Volunteer firemen have on innumerable occasions done yeoman service in protecting life and property endangered by fire in towns and villages, and even the cities, of the settled part of Canada. In the re-awakening of the public to the danger and loss caused by forest fires volunteer firemen have again been brought into service.

The volunteers in this case are Indians living in the district between Lake Winnipeg and the Hudson Bay, in the area traversed by the Nelson river through or near which the Hudson Bay railway will run.

In the summer of 1911 Mr. J. T. Blackford, chief fire ranger of the northern Manitoba fire ranging district, spoke to the Indians of several bands and induced them to promise to help to prevent fires. In some cases he got them to sign the following pledge:

"We Indians appreciate the work the government is doing to prevent forest fires in our district. We pledge ourselves to do all we can to help. We promise to put out our own camp fires every time before leaving camp. We accept the badges given by the government as a pledge."

The badges referred to are small maple leaves of metal which can be pinned on the clothing, and the account given by Mr. Blackford of the way in which the Indians received them is interesting. He writes: "One and all were very much pleased with the badges given them. They pinned them in all sorts of places on their clothing, where each one's fancy thought the most conspicuous place. One man would not take his badge until he had first washed himself and changed his shirt, and then the badge was used as a collar button or brooch. Hats and shirts were the favorite spots for adornment but not a few, after carefully polishing them, would fold them in cloth to keep them for some special occasion. A great percentage of them feel that they are thus, after receiving the badge from the government, constituted minor chiefs and guardians of the forest."

Good-Bye, God Bless You

I like the Anglo-Saxon speech
With its direct revealings;
It takes a hold and seems to reach
Far down into your feelings;
That some folks deem it rude, I know,
And therefore they abuse it;
But I have never found it so,
Before all else I choose it.

I don't object that man should air
The Gallic they have paid for.
With "Au revoir," "Adieu, ma chere,"
For that's what French was made for.
But when the crows takes your hand
At parting to address you,
He drops all foreign lingo, and
He says "Good-bye, God bless you!"

This seems to be a sacred phrase
With reverence impassioned;
It well becomes an honest face,
A voice that's round and cheerful;
It stays the sturdy in his place,
And soothes the weak and fearful;
Into the porches of the ears
It steals with subtle unction,
And in your heart of hearts appears
To work its gracious function:
And all day long with pleading song
It lingers to caress you.
I'm sure no human heart goes wrong
That's told, "Good-bye, God bless you!"

A Sturdy Centenarian

"It's a grand thing to be alive and have good health," is the philosophy of Mr. William Brown, of Nottingham Farm, near Eltham, England, who maintains towards life an outlook of invincible optimism, and who is now over 102 years old.

"I eat well and sleep well," he confessed, "and can smoke my cigar and take my glass of grog with any man. I'm getting a trifle more dull in my ears, but it comforts me to know I never turned a deaf ear to any who were in want. I am glad to think there are some to-day who are better off because I gave them a helping hand."

Mr. Brown, when he grows reminiscent, has memories worth the telling. Among his early acquaintances was George Stephenson, the great engineer—"the best of all the Georges," he calls him. "I had many a talk with him, and helped him to make the railway from Liverpool to Chester, and I helped him to unload the first engine that ran on the Great Western to Maidenhead."

Mr. Brown's memory is as sound as his health. He recalls that he earned his first money when, at the age of eleven years, he worked on the construction of the first railway from Chester to Liverpool. He was a keen and industrious worker, and later, as a contractor, he laid a line of railway from Erith to Woolwich.

Mr. Brown is very proud of the fact that he rose entirely without influence, by his own unaided efforts. He took Nottingham Farm in 1832. Thirty years ago he started a "Beggars' Rest," where he gave a night's lodging to destitute wayfarers.

The old gentleman is farming 105 acres of land rented from the Crown, and in addition to this at one time he worked a farm of 400 acres, and never kept an account or put a figure on paper. Yet he knew his expenditure and income to a penny. "You can," he said, "if you keep things in your own hands and be master in your own house." Mr. Brown was born in Buckinghamshire.

NEW PISTOLS FOR PARIS POLICE

New Weapon to Deal With Desperate Criminals Is Successfully Used

Paris, France.—The suffocating revolver was used by the Paris police recently for the first time, and its effectiveness was amply demonstrated. The weapon was invented as a sequel to the motor bandit sieges, when it was realized that there was need for some method of overcoming the resistance of dangerous criminals, without so much risk to the police.

The weapon was used in the Passy quarter, where a young creole named Vitale Potin, belonging to a wealthy family, had suddenly become mad.

Armed with a revolver and several boxes of cartridges he had barricaded himself in his room at a flat, and for several hours had fired at anyone who had ventured approach. A policeman had a narrow escape of being shot.

Steel bucklers were then fitted to a couple of detectives, who crept up to a small window and fired the contents of their suffocating revolvers. The room was filled with acrid smoke, and Potin, half suffocated, made a dash to the window, where he was captured by the detectives.

PIMPLES ITCHED AND BURNED

On Arms and Legs. Caused Running Sores. Would Tear Himself Till They Bled. Like Open Wounds. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

53 Stewart St., Toronto, Ontario.—

"When my baby was nine months old he had a lot of pimples come on his arms and legs which used to come to a head, then break and cause running sores. They were bright red spots, which itched and burned so badly that he would tear himself till he made them bleed and they were all like open wounds. They were on his face and arms so bad that I did not like to take him out. He could not sleep or rest anywhere. I tried several things at home and lots of different things people used to advise me, but he did not get a bit better.

"I bathed each place in warm water and Cuticura Soap and then I put some of the Cuticura Ointment on and bound them up in soft rags and he slept better that night than he had for three weeks, and he did not scratch himself once that night. I did that for three days, nights and mornings, when we noticed the sores were getting drier and healing, so I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, and after a week and a few days there was not a blemish on him."

(Signed) Mrs. F. West, Feb. 20, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 25-pb. book, send post card to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 39D, Boston, U. S. A.

ABDUL HAMID'S DIARY

Former Sultan Felt That Turkey Would Become Prey of the Powers

Berlin, Germany.—A further installment of ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid's "Thoughts and Memories" from his diary appears in the current number of "Nord und Sud."

The red sultan thought that Turkey had become weak on account of having grown to too great an extent. So he does not complain at the empire lost those Balkan lands, which were so difficult to rule, for he believes—or believed when the diary was written—that Turkey's safety lay in drawing back and concentrating her energies and the sooner we do that the sooner will our weakness and illness be overcome. Then Europe will see that the despised sick man will become a strong man.

On the vexed question of training Turkish officers in Europe, the sultan says:

My friend, the German Kaiser, praises the progress of our officers who study in Germany. But I am afraid the Kaiser is wrong, for the special report of my Berlin ambassador shows that the study of those young gentlemen is a very insufficient affair.

Only a few devote themselves industriously to their work. It costs a great deal for our young sons of Pashas to study Prussian military science, but it is a good thing for the foreigner to see.

The old virtues of the Osmanli, simplicity and sobriety, are often lost by our young men in Germany. They acquire habits of immorality and drinking, and return to their daudles, look down upon their comrades, on our old and tried generals, and mock at our customs.

Abdul is not the first to make such observations. He also believed in a thoroughly Mohammedan Turkey, in bringing back to the empire, in order to strengthen it, all the Ottomans who had wandered into neighboring states.

As to Turkey's troubles, the deposed sultan says:

Allah send us peace and quiet. No land requires them more. I know that our rule leaves much to be desired, but the worst thing is the intriguing of the powers, who are bringing about our ruin. Year in, year out, they disturb us.

In view of the machinations of the powers how can we lead our people forward? If we could only have ten years of peace, then we might hope to be equal to the much-admired Japanese.

Throughout the diary Abdul fulminates against extravagance and luxury. To set my viziers a good example, he says: I have cut down my civil list. I know that the European press often rages against the size of it, but one must know that I have almost a whole town to maintain.

I am also the Kalif, the Father of all Islam and my purse belongs, therefore, to the Moslems of all the world. Allah knows how little I require for myself!

We must have a censor! Abdul exclaims. In the west, he thinks, a censorship may not be necessary, but the ex-sultan says that it is necessary to treat his subjects as children, for they are, indeed only big children, and but slightly educated. It is a great pity, he adds, that so many shallow French novels find their way into the harems.

English machinations make Abdul very angry. There now rests for us, he says, only one way to salvation. That is to annihilate English intrigues.

It is necessary for me to place myself at the head of the so-called reform movement. I must give way before English machinations, and I shall announce the constitution. That is the last move in the game. Perhaps those who revel in schemes of reform will find out later that the new way leads to the abyss; in the end the will perceive, I trust, that Turkey can only live if the Ottoman loyally adheres to the solid foundations of our sacred code. Otherwise, we shall fall before the Christian powers who wish to destroy us.

A Smart Salesman

Let me see some of your black kid gloves, said a lady to a shop assistant.

These are not the latest style, are they? she asked, when the gloves were produced.

Yes, madam, replied the shopman, we have had them in stock only two days.

I didn't think they were, because the fashion paper says black kids have tan stitches and vice versa. I see the tan stitches but not the vice versa.

The shopman explained that vice versa, was French for seven buttons, so she bought three pairs.

A clerical-looking gentleman, in the hope of obtaining a contribution, entered the office of a newspaper, and, finding the editor in, began:

Why, exclaimed the editor, I'm the only man in town answering that description. What's the gentleman's name?

I'm sorry to say I am not at liberty to disclose it.

It must be me, parson. Heaven prosper you in your good work, said the editor, wiping away a tear.

"What shall I eat?" is the daily inquiry the physician is met with. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment a large percentage of disease is caused by poorly selected and improperly prepared food. My personal experience with the fully-cooked food known as Grape-Nuts, enables me to speak freely of its merits.

"From overwork, I suffered several years with malnutrition, palpitation of the heart, and loss of sleep. Last summer I was led to experiment personally with the new food, which I used in conjunction with good rich cow's milk. In a short time after I commenced its use, the disagreeable symptoms disappeared, my heart's action became steady and normal, the functions of the stomach were properly carried out and I again slept as soundly and as well as in my youth.

"I look upon Grape-Nuts as a perfect food, and no one can gainsay but that it has a most prominent place in a rational, scientific system of feeding. Anyone who uses this food will soon be convinced of the soundness of the principle upon which it is manufactured and may thereby know the facts as to its true worth." A Sure Corrective of Flatulency.—When the undigested food lies in the stomach it throws off gases causing pains and oppressions in the stomachic region. Simple directions go with each packet and a course of their taken systematically is certain to effect a cure.

LET the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his strength will soon fail. One's stamina—forcefulness and strength of mind or muscle depend upon the blood, and the blood in turn, requires a healthy stomach, for the stomach is the laboratory where the food is digested and such elements are taken up—or assimilated—which make blood. In consequence all the organs of the body, such as heart, lungs, liver and kidneys, as well as the nervous system, feel the bad effect if the stomach is deranged.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

helps the stomach to digest food properly, starts the liver into new activity, removing the poisons from the blood, and the various organs get rich, red blood, instead of being ill nourished. PANAMA TOLL CASE

AN AMICABLE UNDERSTANDING IS SOON EXPECTED

It is believed that President Wilson will assume an attitude on the Canal Controversy that will prove agreeable to Great Britain.

Washington, D.C.—The report from England that Ambassador Bryce has informed his Government that President Wilson may be expected to assume an attitude on the Panama tolls controversy that will prove more agreeable to Great Britain than the policy of his predecessor, caused no surprise to those in Washington who have followed closely indications of the President's feeling on the subject. As far back as last summer, Washington despatches acknowledged that such a small concession on the part of the United States in the language of the Panama Canal Act was necessary to make that measure acceptable to Great Britain that it seemed incredible that a friendly settlement in the end would not be reached.

The President's inclination to take a more sympathetic view of the British protest against discrimination of the American coasting vessels has been suggested in the disfavor with which he is understood to have learned of the appointment of no-toll senators to the committee on inter-oceanic canals. Any bill amending the Panama Canal Act would be referred to that committee.

Mr. Wilson has been guarded in his utterances on the subject of the canal tolls and there is reason to believe that he does not wish to complicate the tariff situation by taking a stand just now. Just which a majority of his party in both houses, as well as the party platform has declared. The President has long been a close friend of Ambassador Bryce, their writings on allied subjects having brought them into communication many years ago, and it is thought that he has revealed his real sentiments to the diplomat.

A careful reading of Sir Edward Grey's note of last summer to Ambassador Bryce, which the Ambassador read to Secretary Knox, led to the opinion in certain quarters that in spite of Sir Edward's broad denial of the American right to any discrimination in favor of American shipping, he would accept the bill then pending as a fair recognition of Great Britain's treaty rights if two amendments were made. One of these was to make it certain that only American ships exclusively engaged in the coastwise trade would be allowed free passage through the canal. The other was to make it plain that the exemption of certain American tolls would constitute a loss to the American treasury and not constitute an additional burden on the shipping of the world.

Whether those mild modifications constitute the basis of the settlement which is now considered possible is not known. In view of President Wilson's supposed friendliness towards the English plea it is possible that the British foreign office may press with greater vigor for some of the other points set forth in Sir Edward Grey's note. But the subject of arbitration with which he closed his note is supposed now to be abandoned in favor of settlement by friendly diplomacy.

Washington Welcomes Case

Washington.—The general opinion in unofficial circles is that the administration would welcome a test in the supreme court on the question of the eligibility of the Japanese to naturalization.

So far, all decisions of record, mostly in western courts, have held that Japanese are not eligible because not white persons.

The issue has never been tested before the supreme court of the United States in a direct form.

The Japanese contend they are Malayan and Aryan in lineage and consequently may fairly claim to be classified ethnologically as the white persons described in the naturalization act.

The importance of a determination of the question and its relationship to the alien land legislation now pending in California, lie in the fact that as that act now stands before the legislature, any alien entitled to apply for naturalization may own and lease land in a state, so that a decision favorable to the Japanese contention would completely defeat the purpose of the legislation so far as it might be aimed at the Japanese.

Mostly White Fox

Prince Albert.—The shipments of fur from the north country this year are of unusual size and value. All the local fur trading companies report particularly large and valuable lots being brought in by trappers who annually visit this city with their pelts. The most prominent skin this year is that of the white fox and scores of pelts are coming in. Other valuable specimens are finding their way here, not the least important of which are two or three splendid polar bear skins of unusual size.

Winnipeg.—Immigrants averaging almost 1,000 a day reached Winnipeg during the week ending April 16. The British still maintain their lead among these with over 700 arrivals a day.

Totals for the week are 5,666. Of these 3,676 were British, 240 Russians, 450 Galicians, 350 Germans, 290 Italians, 560 Scandinavians.

FRANCE IS INTERESTED

Hope to Get Valuable Information On the Balkan War

Paris.—Two members of the Parliamentary Army Council, M. Meslin, ex-Minister of War, and M. Benazet has left Paris for Adrianople to study in the spot the important question of the value of the French war material employed by the Balkan Allies, and the extent to which the Turkish fortifications, constructed after German plans, and furnished with German war material, resisted their fire. Before leaving M. Benazet made the following statement as to the object of the journey:

Parliament will shortly be asked to deliberate on the advisability of raising enormous credits in order to complete our armament, and our object is to furnish the most comprehensive information both to the Parliamentary Army Council and the country. Adrianople was admirably defended by well-trained Turkish troops, who were sheltered behind the entrenchments and in steel vaults identical with those that at the present moment furnish the fortifications of Metz and Strasbourg, and we propose asking the Bulgarian generals exactly of what value the French cannon made in our own arsenals were to them in the attack on Adrianople.

Elevators for the West

Ottawa.—It is understood that the government has under consideration the question of establishing terminal elevators at several points in the west which afford alternative routes for shipment of grain.

The grain commission last summer at the instance of the government, investigated the matter, and reported in favor of such a plan, and recently the commission has been holding a series of conferences through the west on the same subject.

In the United States terminal facilities for the handling of grain are located at all important centres having a storage capacity estimated at 200,000,000 bushels. As a consequence the grain is being shipped from all these centres the year round.

Western Canada has but one terminal point, Fort William and Port Arthur. It is possible that if the government decides upon these elevators they may insist upon the condition that milling industries be established. The establishment of a terminal elevator which would contain all the grades of grain is the natural adjunct of such industry. Some official announcement is expected before the session closes.

A Volunteer Force

Wellington, N.Z.—The scheme for organizing a volunteer expeditionary force in New Zealand, available for service in any part of the empire, has been the subject of negotiations between the Dominion and the Imperial Government. It is now announced that progress has been made in these negotiations and that the views of His Majesty's Government will be submitted to the Dominion Cabinet.

The general opinion is that the volunteers joining the force will amount approximately to seven or eight thousand men. These men, owing to the universal system which exists in New Zealand will have already undergone training in the territorial force. The formation of this corps by New Zealand is the first step taken by the Dominion to furnish the Mother country with an estimate of the exact forces which will be available for the assistance of the empire in time of need.

Titanic Claims Period Extended

New York.—The time limit for filing claims against the Ocean Steam Navigation, limited, for losses incurred by the sinking of the Titanic was extended by United States Judge Holt, in the case of two attorneys representing nearly sixty claimants. One, acting for seven residents of Switzerland was given thirty days; the other, representing claims of over fifty immigrants, was given one week. There were 125 claims filed just before the time limit expired. These amounted to $2,132,857 and bring the total claimed for loss of life and property and injury to nearly $14,000,000.

London.—The select committee appointed to inquire into the eligibility of Stuart Samuel occupying his seat in the commons, owing to his alleged participation in business transactions with an Indian banking firm, has reported that Mr. Samuel was a member of the firm of Samuel and Montague which traded with the government. The privy council will shortly deliver judgment as to whether Mr. Samuel's seat in the house can be declared vacant.

Foresadows End of Canal Dispute

London.—The report sent by James Bryce, British ambassador to the United States, on the result of a recent conversation with President Wilson, forebadows, it is understood, a favorable termination of the controversy between the two countries over the question of the Panama Canal tolls.

Dr. McKay Joins Stefansson

London.—Another important member joined the forthcoming Canadian expedition in the person of Dr. MacKay, who was surgeon on the Shackleton Antarctic expedition. Dr. MacKay will fill a similar position on the new Arctic expedition.

IS RICH IN MINERALS

VALUABLE DEPOSITS FOUND ALONG H.B. ROUTE

Prospectors are Staking Claims, and a Rush to this District is Anticipated—High Grade Samples of Ore Convince the Prospectors.

The Pas, Man.—That minerals in paying quantities exist within 100 miles of The Pas on both sides of the Hudson Bay railway and in close proximity thereto, and that new Manitoba is sure to see at an early date a rush for precious metals, similar to what happened in the Porcupine district in Northern Ontario, is the report that the Wright-Bancroft prospective party, which went north last winter and returned a few days ago, have brought with them.

Both men have spent the greater portion of their lives in this work. The fact also that the well known mining engineer, C. Bateman, of Toronto, has himself investigated the matter and made propositions for the taking over of the claims located by the party is evidence that its report is a reliable one.

The Wright-Bancroft party's field of action has been principally the Thicket Portage district, which is at the far extremity of the first contract of the Hudson Bay railway, therefore about 185 miles from here. The claims they have located number 30, as follows: Thicket Portage Manitoba group 6; Winterville Lake Dominion group 7; Ironstone Lake Jupiter group 6; Cardiac Lake Cariboo group 3; Sandy Lake Rawhide group 8; the latter group is within 100 miles of The Pas. None of the first four groups are farther out than 10 miles from the Hudson Bay railway.

The Manitoba group being traversed by the grade samples, which have been assayed have shown very close to eleven dollars worth per ton of copper and gold.

The main and only trouble which may be encountered in the development of the claims located by the party as well as others of similar nature in the whole of new Manitoba will be the ability of the root and soil to keep water out, for if expensive pumping apparatus has to be used it may be found that the quantity of precious metal will not be sufficient to pay.

Mr. Wright himself stated that at Settling Lake there are three waterfalls of sufficient importance to generate an immense volume of power. In all probability, concluded Mr. Wright, when work begins and the establishment of smelters is found necessary, they will be located at The Pas.

FOR WELLAND CANAL

Departmental Engineers Visit Big Ditch to Get the Latest Ideas

Ottawa, Ont.—Chief Engineer Bowden, of the railways and canals department, and Engineer Veller, who is in charge of the work on the Welland Canal, have returned from a trip to the Panama canal, where they spent the past month studying the great work which is about to link the two oceans. They have been investigating the latest engineering development as exemplified on the Panama canal with a view to applying these ideas to the new Welland undertaking.

The government is anxious for the Welland to be the latest work in modern canal construction. The two engineers are starting work at once on designing the canal construction, and tenders will be closed as soon as possible.

The preliminary work is already well under way, the route having been decided upon, and the first survey being also about complete. It is almost impossible for the contractors to get more than a start this year, but the next five years will see great activity along the line of the big ditch across the Niagara peninsula.

The canal that is being planned is designed to meet future needs for a long period and will be one of the greatest works of its kind on the continent.

PROGRESS BY WIRELESS

From Chambéry, France, to New York is Latest

Paris.—By means of the invention of an Italian engineer, Galetti, it is hoped that within ten days it will be possible to communicate by wireless from Chambéry, in the southeast of France, to New York. A wireless station has been erected on a high cliff in the village of Leschaux, near Chambéry.

Dispensing with antennae, Galetti has set up two posts eight metres (about 26 feet 3 inches) high. These are connected by a wire from which a series of other wires 900 metres long (about 2,952 feet) converge to the operator's cabin at the foot of the cliff. Galetti obtained authority to test his system from the French post office department, which working in co-operation with Italy and the United States, expects eventually to exploit the Leschaux station for the purpose of direct communication with New York. Galetti expressed satisfaction with the preliminary trials.

FOR WIRELESS OUTFIT

Tendering for Station of Much Power at Le Pas Terminals

Le Pas, Man.—Several firms are now tendering on the contract to build the wireless station to be built there at an early date in connection with the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway. A. E. Roche, secretary-treasurer and chief engineer of the Canadian Marconi Telegraph Company of Toronto, and Walter A. Rash, of the Radio Telegraph branch of the Department of Naval Service, Ottawa, arrived in town. They inspected the grounds south and north of the river.

Construction on what will be the second largest wireless station in Canada will commence as soon as possible. The plant which is expected to cost about $100,000 will include four 250 foot steel towers and a 231 horse power engine. Both Mr. Roche and Mr. Rash found the conditions at this point ideal, on account of the gradual and continual depression of the land towards the bay.

TO STOP DUELS

Emperor Wilhelm Spoke to Discourage Practice in German Army

Berlin.—Emperor William is endeavoring to reduce the number of duels fought by German army officers according to an announcement made to a committee of the Imperial Parliament by General Von Hoeringen, Minister of War. His Majesty, said the Minister, admonished the commanding generals at his New Year's reception to give their attention to the matter, chiefly in the way of improving the training of officers. The Emperor followed this up with a re-scription to the army, calling attention to the number of duels caused by officers insulting their comrades or civilians. This was in the nature of a warning to the officers to strive against such practices. It concluded: Self-control and restraint must be cultivated as manly virtues.

FATAL ACCIDENTS

Department of Labor Report on Deaths in Industrial Trades

Ottawa.—During the month of March, according to the record of the department, labor, 480 industrial accidents occurred, of which 93 were fatal and 387 resulted in serious injuries. This is 8 more fatal and 13 fewer non-fatal accidents than were recorded in February. The record for March 1912 was 113 fatal and 356 non-fatal accidents. The greatest number of fatal accidents occurred to employees in steam railway service. Of the non-fatal accidents, 115 steam railway employees were injured. In the metal trades 102 workmen were injured, while in the building trades 25 workmen were injured.

NO IMPROVEMENT SHOWN

Patients Treated by Friedman in London no Better

London, Ont.—No permanent improvement is reported on any of the patients treated by Dr. F. Friedman for tuberculosis. Two cases of tubercular bone have been reported to show improvement, but so far nothing permanent has been demonstrated. The patients under the care of Dr. Ross, of the Queen Alexandra sanatorium, are not improved. There is no change in their condition, said Dr. Ross. It is too early yet to make any predictions, but there has not been any improvement to date.

Would Take 50,000,000 Bushels of Barley

Moose Jaw, Sask.—England would take fifty million bushels of barley per year from Canada if she produced it, was the statement made by P. H. Rice, head of the Rice Malt company, of Canada, who is in Moose Jaw, on a tour through the west.

At the present time, he said, England secures all her immense supply of barley from California but barley grown in that state cannot compare with that grown in Saskatchewan. There is an immense opportunity for the Canadian farmer to grow barley and make money faster than he possibly could by growing wheat.

Powers are Divided

Vienna.—The powers composing the triple alliance, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy, advocate, according to the Neue Freie Presse, that Saloniki should be given to Bulgaria as compensation for the cession of Silistria and a strip of Bulgarian territory to Roumania.

Russia and France, on the other hand, are of the opinion that Greece should have Saloniki, while England appears to favor the view of the triple alliance. It was announced a few days ago that Greece had transferred a division of her army from the province of Epirus to Saloniki.

C.P.R. Proposes Fast Coast Train Winnipeg.—From Montreal to Vancouver in seventy-two hours is the objective of the C.P.R. according to a statement made by C. B. Foster, general passenger agent. This will be the fastest transcontinental train on the continent.

It is expected that the company will be able to make this time for the whole three thousand miles. The calculation is based on the following estimate: An average speed of fifty miles an hour for sixty hours, and twelve hours allowed for stops.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON IV.—SECOND QUARTER FOR APRIL 27, 1913

We begin today some studies in the life of Joseph, who was in many respects a most wonderful type of the Lord Jesus Christ. The Spirit has told up by Paul that Adam and Eve suggest Christ and the church both by analogy and contrast.

We have seen much in the death and resurrection and marriage of Isaac but no character is quite so fully typical as that of Joseph. No one can be a type of Christ in the matter of being sinless, for He alone was without sin. But there are quite a number who because of incidents in their lives of official position are suggestive of Christ.

We are to have seven studies in the history of Joseph and as the next will be in chapter xl this lesson must touch xxxix as well as xxxviii. We are introduced to Joseph at the age of seventeen as a shepherd with his brethren (verse 2). There were two peculiar things about him, for neither of which he was responsible—he was loved by Israel more than the others because he was the son of his old age, and the Lord gave him two dreams which indicated an exaltation above his brethren and even above his parents (verses 3-11).

Because of his father's love and these dreams it is written that his brethren hated him and they envied him and as they saw him coming, being sent by his father to seek their welfare, they conspired against him to slay him (verses 4, 5, 8, 11, 18, 20).

Our lesson verse today tells of his being stripped of his coat of many colors or pieces, cast into a pit, taken up again and sold as a slave for twenty pieces of silver and taken down to Egypt and sold to Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh's and captain of the guard. As his father waited and wondered concerning his precious boy they brought home his coat, which they had dipped in the blood of a kid of the goats, and said: This have we found—know now whether it be thy son's coat or no. So Jacob was led to suppose that Joseph had been killed by a wild beast, and he refused to be comforted. He had sorely deceived his father, and having sown the wind he reaped the whirlwind.

Turning to Joseph, we find him both as a slave and as a prisoner falsely accused and wrongfully imprisoned called a prosperous man, for the Lord was with him. In Potiphar's house all that he had was put in Joseph's hand, and even in the prison the keeper put everything under his care, and whatsoever they did there he was the doer of it (xxxix, 1-6, xi, 23). So the years passed with Joseph, who was sold for a servant, whose feet he hurt with fetters. He was laid in iron. Until the time that his word came the word of the Lord tried him (Ps. cv, 17-19).

In the Study of the Types, by Miss Ada R. Habershon, she notes the following points of analogy, giving the New Testament and other references. I am glad to quote them for those who are interested enough to look up the references, giving today only those from the two chapters we have looked at.

The good shepherd feeding his flock (John x, 11, 14). Loved by His Father (Matt. iii, 17). Hated, envied and disbelieved by his brethren (John iii, 19-20; vii, 5; xv, 25; Mark xv, 10; Luke xix, 14). His pre-eminence shown in his dreams (Col. i, 18). His faith observed his saying (Luke ii, 51). He willingly agreed to go to his brethren (Ps. xl, 7, 8; Luke xx, 13; John iii, 16). He went from Hebron (fellowship, came to Shechem and was found wandering in the field (John xvi, 28; xvii, 5, 24; iv, 45; Matt. xiii, 38; Luke ix, 58). He went after his brethren to seek their welfare and his father told him to bring him word again (Luke xix, 10; xv, 4; John xvii, 13). They conspired against him, mocked him, stripped him, put him in a pit, sat down and afterward sold him into Egypt for twenty pieces of silver (Matt. xxvii, 1, 28, 36, 9; xxvi, 15, 16; ii, 14; Mark xv, 32; Ps. xl, 2; lxxix, 2, 14, 15).

He became a slave to an officer of Pharaoh but the Lord was with him and made all that he did to prosper (Isa. xlix, 7; iii, 10; Phil. ii, 7; John xvi, 32). Those who oppressed him were blessed for his sake and placed everything under his care (Eph. i, 3, iv, 32; John iii, 35; i, Tim. i, 12). He was a goodly person well favored, yet without sin (Solg. v, 16; Luke ii, 52; Hab. iv, 15). Many other texts may be added to these, and we will quote further analogies from Miss Habershon's studies in future lessons.

It will help some to remember that "Whatsoever things were written afore time were written for our learning that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope, and that these things were our examples and happened unto them for types (Rom. xv, 4; i Cor. x, 6, 11, margin). I have no doubt but that Joseph was sustained in his sufferings by the glory set before him in his dreams, for since he could interpret the dreams of others, as we shall see in our next lesson, he must have understood something of the significance of his own. It is true of every redeemed soul, as it was true of Joseph that every step in the way of salvation is a step toward a throne and a kingdom.

MULTIPLICATION OF SMOKESTACKS IN THE THREE PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Winnipeg Furnishes an Object Lesson in the Fruits of a Stable Trade Policy—Factory Chimneys are the New Landmarks in the West

During sixty days, ending in the latter part of November of last year as many as one hundred and nine letters were received by the Winnipeg Industrial Bureau from genuine manufacturing concerns, some of which, recognizing the importance of securing access to the western market, made special applications for information by telegraph. From Eastern Canada five letters were received including that of an Ontario automobile concern and a Quebec stove manufacturer. The state of Minnesota furnished six enquiries two being from St. Paul and two from Minneapolis. Three Michigan manufacturers are making searching enquiries regarding their respective trades, and Iowa sent for information regarding five lines of manufactured goods, varying from steel metal products to harvesting machinery. The central states were represented by ten enquiries, Ohio sending nine and Indiana only one. These represent a variety of manufactures varying from a glove to motor truck factory. There were nine Wisconsin applications for information along manufacturing lines, four hailing from Milwaukee, a number of automobile firms of international repute being amongst the number from that state. No less than sixteen Chicago manufacturers made application for information regarding the manufacturing possibilities during the past sixty days and there were four other applicants from the state of Illinois. Eastern United States manufacturers including six from Philadelphia and six from New York city wanted to know what Winnipeg offers in the lines they are interested in; and the remainder of the letters were enquiries from ten New England industrial centers. The Western States contributed nine letters for information, four of these being from Kansas City. The state of California sent a similar number of enquiries. Industrial information was requested by six manufacturers in the Southern States, one from a terra cotta manufacturer in Missouri who believes that Winnipeg is the best shipping centre for Canada and a Jefferson City clothing manufacturer who asked for information of a detailed character regarding the cost of construction of a factory, etc. These hundred and one enquiries received, in addition to many personal calls from the manufacturer, represent a wide range of manufacturing activity. Many of them are highly technical and have to be dealt with with great care after painstaking research into the conditions pertinent thereto. Winnipeg's $4,000,000 civic hydro-electric power plant which furnishes power and light to manufacturers at cost, is awakening wide interest in manufacturing circles all over North America and Great Britain. The building permits at Winnipeg to date show that well over a million and a quarter was expended on new factories, and extensions to old, during the past year.

This illustration shows at a glance the enormous increase in the output of the factories of Winnipeg during the past few years. The Manitoba Government's figures (amounting last year to more than $15,000,000) of the immense amount of capital invested annually in industrial concerns in that city provides substantial evidence of the multiplication of smokestacks in Winnipeg and the enormous business increase associated therewith. A similar picture of lesser proportions but of almost equal ratio of increase might be drawn of a score of "farther west" cities whose smokestacks are becoming larger, taller and more numerous.

Winnipeg's factories represent a large army of skilled workmen. About two out of every three of them are married men with families. The wages these workers receive is paid over the counters of Western merchants, and a great deal of it finds its way into the pockets of the Western farmer who is growing products for the Winnipeg market. The factory is the agency which causes the circulation of money at home.

Children's Preference for Pastry

Dr. Gilmour, school medical officer for Paisley, in his annual report said children belonging to the poor families were not necessarily the most ill-nourished, and he attributed the numbers of poorly nourished children amongst scholars from the same class to the fact that the children were in many cases allowed to eat as to their personal likes and dislikes in the way of food, with the actual preference for pastry and other articles. Twelve per cent of the boys and nine per cent of the girls examined were poorly nourished.

Attack on a Prison Warden

The Admiralty quarry at Stirling, Scotland, was the scene of a desperate attack by a convict on a warden. The quarry stands high on a desolate hill, and while convicts are at work is carefully guarded by wardens armed with loaded rifles. A gang of convicts had just arrived at the quarry when a convict sprang from his place at the rear, and shoved the officer in charge over the face of the quarry. The warden managed to clutch the ledge of a rock, and held on to it until another convict came to the rescue and pulled him to the top.

MESSAGE IN LATCHKEY

Boy Scout Walks 630 Miles to Carry Message for Lord Mayor

A Boy Scout named Robert Harrison, a member of the 4th P.P.A. Baden-Powell Troop, was presented to the Lord Mayor of London at the Mansion House in recognition of his courage and endurance in walking from London to Inverness, 630 miles, in thirty-nine days.

Harrison delivered to the Lord Lieutenant of Inverness, a message of greeting from the Lord Mayor. Harrison set out with only a day's food and no money, and worked for his board and lodging day by day until he got to his destination. His kit weighed 39 lbs. He was delayed nine days owing to the heavy rains. On the other days, all of which were wet, he walked about twenty-one miles a day.

The Lord Mayor's message was hidden in the barrel of a latchkey, the head of which was unscrewed. One night when he slept in a barn, rats ran over him and gnawed away the strap of his camera. On another occasion he walked fourteen miles through a Scotch forest without meeting a human being and lost his way.

QUAINT DUTCH CUSTOM

Started by Discovery of a Gunpowder Plot Three 300 Years Ago by Boys

Of the many quaint and curious customs, traditions and privileges prevailing in Holland, none is more extraordinary than a certain privilege that has been enjoyed by the boys of Amsterdam for nearly 300 years.

At a fixed time each year these boys gather by the hundred in the great square called the Dam, situated in the centre of the city. Each boy has a drum slung over his shoulder.

Facing this square is the stock exchange, and on the occasion in question, just as soon as the day's business is over, as many of the boys as can crowd into the building. They proceed to the door of the exchange, where pursuant to this odd custom they are permitted to march about singing and brating upon their drums.

The origin of this custom, it is said, is as follows:

One afternoon in the year 1622 a crowd of boys playing in the Dam lost a ball in the canal that in those days skirted one side of the square. One of the lads, while climbing in among the piles on which the building stood, found, instead of his ball, a boat moored in a dark corner and loaded with boxes of gunpowder. This showed clearly enough what was afterward ascertained with certainty, the intention of Spanish conspirators to blow up the stock exchange while it was crowded, as it was every day, with the leading citizens of the city.

The boy who stumbled upon the gunpowder at once hurried to the town authorities with the news. The boatload of explosives was quietly sunk in the canal and the Spanish plot thus frustrated.

When the burgesses asked the boy what reward he desired for the service he had rendered the town he replied that so long as there was a stock exchange in Amsterdam the boy of the town would like to be permitted to make the floor of the exchange their playground during a certain part of the year. The request was granted, and so the custom survives.

ODD ITEMS OF INTEREST

Tea has been used as a beverage in China more than 2000 years.

Great Britain imports about two and a half million rabbit skins a year. The world's production of rabbits is estimated at 30,000 tons a year and the demand 150,000 tons.

That over a person is impossible to the claim of an English inventor of a new form of photographic plate. The United States and Canada together have about 800,000 electric signs, containing about 800,000 lamps.

Recent tests have shown that ex-nasal air in a room increases the weight of persons who breathe it regularly.

The king of Siam had two motor fire engines built in England for the protection of his palace at Bangkok.

PRECIOUS ASHES

Radium Burned in Grate by Accident and Mixed With Cinders

A firm of Birmingham chemists undertook a delicate task—that of recovering from some ashes about $500 worth of radium. This substance is frequently used for the treatment of skin diseases by private practitioners, who hire the precious mineral. It is contained in what is known as an applicator.

A doctor having removed from a patient's body the applicator and surgical dressings, inadvertently threw them both on to the bedroom fire. The doctor, much distressed, hastened to direct that possession should be taken of all the ashes from the fireplace, and this was done at once. The cinders, contained in a cardboard box, weighed about two pounds and it was found by scientific investigation that they were radio-active. The method of recovering the radium is very slow as all the ashes have to be reduced to powder by slow ignition in oxygen, but eventually it is hoped to regain about half of the precious stuff.

LICENSED HAWKERS

Street Vendors in London City Now Wear Badges

London hawkers are now wearing on the left arm a metal oval-shaped badge and a number issued by the Commissioner of Police. Street vendors have increased so greatly in number of late in the most frequented thoroughfares in the City that it has become a serious problem of traffic.

Altogether, about 3,000 men and women sent in their names to be registered, but a very large number of the applicants did not succeed in making good their claims as they have to show a plausible title to three years' street trading before being allowed to do business at their favorite haunt—Ludgate Hill—the year round.

Most of the licensed hawkers are old people—with the exception of the flower women. The men seem to regard the badge as a cherished distinction, and, whether they wear it on the right arm or the left, make it sufficiently conspicuous. One of them recently remarked: "Tremor of us and more trade. We feel like a bit of the Corporation now."

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS MAKING A REPUTATION IN THE WEST

Saskatchewan Man Tells How They Cured Him, After Four Months' Suffering from Backache and Other Forms of Kidney Disease

St. Phillips, Sask. (Special).—In a new country where changes of climate and impure water are among the difficulties to be surmounted, kidney trouble is prevalent. It is the kidneys, the organs that strain the impurities out of the blood, that first feel any undue strain on the body. Consequently Dodd's Kidney Pills have been well tried and tested in this neighborhood.

They have stood the test. Many settlers tell of backache, rheumatism and urinary troubles cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Otto Olschewski is one of these. In speaking of his cure he says:

"I suffered from kidney disease for four months. My back ached, I had heart flutterings, and was always tired and nervous. My skin had a harsh, dry feeling; my limbs were heavy; and I had a dragging sensation across the loins.

"I consulted a doctor, but, as I did not appear to improve, I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I used six boxes, and now I am all right."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always stand the test. Ask your neighbors.

Anaemic Condition or Bloodlessness

A peculiar pallor or even ghastliness of the skin is the marked symptom of anaemia. The eyelids, lips and lips appear to be almost bloodless. The cause of this condition is the absence of red corpuscles from the blood.

The anaemic patient is usually thin and weak, but may be fleshy and inclined to dropy. Stomach troubles and weakness of the bodily organs are accompaniments.

Red corpuscles must be added to the blood, and this can best be accomplished by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great food cure is so gentle and natural in action that it is admirably suited for the use of women and girls suffering from anaemia or other diseases which arise from an impoverished condition of the blood.

It is readily assimilated, enters the blood streams and carries health and strength to every organ of the body.

The vigor of the digestive system is quickly restored, and the food taken into the body is properly digested and nourishment supplied to the whole system.

To get well and keep well you must supply the body with an abundance of pure, rich blood. Nothing can help you so well as

AROUND THE TOWN

Our news columns are somewhat short of news this week owing to the indisposition of the editor. We crave the indulgence of our readers for this week.

Stauffer Elected

The election held on Thursday last resulted in the return of Mr. J. E. Stauffer, the Liberal candidate to the provincial house, by a majority of 286 over his opponent, Mr. G. B. Sexsmith, the Liberal-Conservative candidate. Complete returns for each polling subdivision are not at hand but will be published next week. The fight was a hard one from the beginning and the election results show that Mr. Sexsmith was an extremely strong candidate in a constituency that is extreme Liberal in its views. In the elections of 1909, which was a three cornered fight, Mr. Stauffer's majority over Mr. Scarlett, the Liberal Conservative candidate, was 686, and over C. Hielbert, Independent Conservative, his majority was 835. These majorities compared with 286 over Mr. Sexsmith at this election shows the defeated candidate made an extremely good run.

PROVINCIAL RETURNS

The latest figures of members elected for the province to date are as follows:

Liberals 37.
Conservatives 15
Doubtful 1.

E. Michener, leader of the opposition, was elected in Red Deer; C. R. Mitchell, former Minister of Public Works, was defeated in Medicine Hat, and C. Cross was elected in one of the Edmonton constituencies, three Liberal Conservative members were elected in Calgary, J. Simpson, the oldest member of the last legislature and former deputy speaker of the territorial house, who has been representing Innisfail in the Liberal interest for a number of years, was defeated by F. Archer, conservative candidate. This is the story in short form to date, which may be slightly changed in the next few days.
